ALLIED FORCES ARE MAKING ADVANCE

French Forces Battle With American And British Armies In Tunisia

By LEO V. DOLAN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Nov. 23.—A major attack by Allied forces against Axis positions at Bizerte and Tunis was reported by the Morocco radio today following a series of patrol clashes of mounting intensity.

First reports indicated success for the Allied cause, the radio said.

Military officials in London, however, reported that the Morocco station at Rabat is not necessarily in Allied hands and that its broadcasts must be treated with considerable reserve.

Broadcast Report
The broadcast said: "The First British Army, supported by their Allies and the French, have launched a big attack against the whole German positions around the perimeter Bizerte-Tunis. Prisoners already have been brought in."

Morocco radio said the offensive had been announced in an "Allied headquarters communiqué." "Allied forces," the broadcast said, "launched an attack against enemy armored forces entrenched around the towns of Bizerte and Tunis. Main Allied forces are being actively brought up to the front to attack the whole Axis-occupied positions. The first prisoners have been brought to the rear."

Smash Nazi Column
Word received at Allied headquarters in North Africa said that British forces moving along the northern coastal road had encountered a German armored column and smashed it back after inflicting heavy losses on German tank units.

French troops now fighting with the American and British were attacked twice in the central sector, suffered heavy losses but repulsed the Nazis and won the field.

The Algiers radio said that Axis planes raided that Axis-held Mediterranean port at 3:15 a. m. today and that a new alert was sounded at 7:15 a. m. The all-clear following the first attack was not sounded until 5 a. m., it was reported.

U. S. Forces Tighten Grip On Guadalcanal

By JOSEPH A. BORS

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—American ground troops today continued to tighten their grip on Guadalcanal as U. S. planes and submarines lashed out on the vast Pacific front against Jap supply lines and bases.

Taking advantage of the recent naval-air victory in the Solomons, American forces are striking offensively to disrupt possible Jap preparations to resume their South Pacific counter-drive.

On Guadalcanal, U. S. marines and army forces have been extending their lines east and west of the airfield against enemy troops that have been hiding in jungles and mountains.

The current U. S. land offensive on the island was made possible by the defeat of strong Jap armadas in a sea-air battle that cost the enemy 38 ships, sunk and damaged, and prevented enemy reinforcements from landing on the island.

Ferocity of the latest sea-air battle for the southern Solomons was recalled again by the navy's disclosure that another American destroyer was sunk as a result of recent fighting.

The warship was torpedoed in the battle for Guadalcanal, the navy said, and sank while en route to a South Pacific port for repairs. No loss of life was reported, and the officers and crew were picked up by another destroyer.

Loss of the vessel raised to nine the total of American warships sunk in the battle—two cruisers and seven destroyers.

Reveal U. S. Fleet Unit Had Big Surface Battle With French Warships

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET, on Patrol off Casablanca, Nov. 11. (Delayed)—Atlantic fleet units destroyed or damaged at least 10 French warships in a thunderous surface battle of Casablanca Sunday (November 8), it can be revealed today following surrender of the strategic French Moroccan port.

Regarded as the most important American naval triumph in the Atlantic since the Spanish-American War, the sweeping victory forced capitulation of Casablanca and smashed the focal point of resistance to American occupation of Northwest Africa.

French ships put out of action included:
The 35,000-ton battleship, Jean Bart.
One cruiser (estimated 8,000-tons) of the Primauguet class.
Six or more French light cruisers (or destroyer leaders) and destroyers.
To submarines.
This estimate of French losses, unofficial but highly reliable, was

Hear Report Badoglio Heads Move For Peace

By CHARLES A. SMITH

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A report that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, former chief of staff of the Italian army, has headed a movement to negotiate a separate peace for Italy reached London today.

A Reuter dispatch from Ankara quoted travelers from Italy as telling of the movement.

Badoglio, who is known to have bitterly opposed Mussolini's military alliance with Nazi Germany and his attack upon France, was described in the dispatch as "leader of a group of anti-Fascists."

This group, it was said, approached the Vatican with a request that Pope Pius step in as mediator and get Italy out of the war before the country could be entirely destroyed.

Extend Dimout At Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Regulations for a "partial dimout" of all Pennsylvania communities within 25 miles of Philadelphia city hall for the duration of the war were being formulated by civilian defense officials today.

Dr. A. C. Martz, state defense director, announced the dimout, requested by army officials, was designed to reduce "sky glow" so that it cannot be seen 50 miles by an airplane flying at 10,000 feet over the war-vital industrial area.

The dim-out, affecting Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Montgomery and Delaware counties, will start daily a half hour after sundown and end a half hour before sunrise.

It was indicated that stringent regulations in effect in New York were not contemplated immediately in this area.

HUGE NAZI FORCE MAY BE CUT OFF

Communication Lines For Germans East Of Don River Bend Are Reported Cut

By W. W. CHAPLIN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 23.—Smashing relentlessly against German lines in the vicinity of Stalingrad in the greatest Soviet drive since last year's winter offensive, Red army troops today drove steadily forward both north-west and south of the Volga metropolis, inflicting heavy casualties on the Nazis.

(The official German news agency, DNB, admitted in a broadcast from Berlin that the Russians had launched "grand-scale" actions on both sides of Stalingrad and said that American and British tanks were being used in offensive.)

Rout Nazi Battalions

Two more German storm battalions were routed northwest of Stalingrad and considerable war material was captured in continued heavy blows struck by the Red army under command of Marshal Semyon Timoshenko, the Soviet high command announced at noon.

South of the bomb and shell ruined Volga city the resurgent Russian forces, capturing dozens of uninhabited localities, pressed steadily ahead, inflicting severe new losses on the battered German units.

The gigantic twin assaults already have cost the Germans more than 15,000 dead and tens of thousands of the enemy have been cut off from supplies and reinforcements east of the Don river bend by thrusts which severed key railway lines.

Advance 50 Miles

In the drive northwest of Stalingrad, the Soviets scored a 50-mile southward advance to capture the town of Kalach on the east bank of the Don.

The noon communiqué said that the Germans had made two attacks

Shifts Are Made In British War Cabinet

Sudden Change In Cabinet Posts

Sir Stafford Cripps Takes Up Duties As Minister Of Air Craft Production

BIG INCREASE IN BOMBER OUTPUT

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 23.—As Great Britain's production of heavy bombers reached a rate that tripled that of last year, Sir Stafford Cripps, England's lord privy seal and leader of the House of Commons, took up his new duties as minister of aircraft production.

Sir Stafford relinquished his posts and stepped down from minister's rank in the war cabinet yesterday to replace Col. J. J. Llewellyn as director of Britain's aircraft production which, Llewellyn said, had increased the output of heavy bombers to three times that of last year.

War Cabinet Revision
In a sudden and complete unexpected revision of the British political setup, Cripps was replaced in the war cabinet by Herbert Morrison, who remains home secretary and minister of home security.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, retaining that post, will take over Cripps' leadership of commons, while Lord Cranborne, secretary of state for the colonies, inherits Cripps' title of lord privy seal.

Col. Llewellyn has been appointed to a newly-created post of resident minister in Washington in charge of supply, linking more completely the American and British war effort.

Col. Oliver Stanley was appointed to Lord Cranborne's vacated post of colonial secretary.

Although Cripps lost ministerial rank by resigning from the war cabinet, it was explained he did not want to remain in the cabinet because of additional technical work his new post will require.

CAPTURE OF BUNA FROM JAP FORCES SEEMS IMMINENT

ly built in the Japanese second line of defense, American forces, threatening the town itself from all three land sides, were attacking the main Buna airdrome in force, it was announced.

Yank troops were also disclosed to be engaged in hot fighting at Buna mission, about a mile from the town.

Meanwhile, Aussie forces driving the Japs toward the sea at Gona were disclosed to have sent a patrol into Gona itself, inflicting heavy casualties before rejoining the main body.

Smash At Air Force
While the most bitter fighting since the early days of Guadalcanal made a bloody battlefield of the narrow 14-mile strip between Gona and Buna, Allied airmen smashed hard at the most powerful enemy air force reported in New Guinea since August.

Lae and Salamaua have again become major air bases for the foe it was disclosed, and enemy dive bombers traded blow for blow with Allied medium bombardment units throughout the day.

Results of Allied air operations were 19 enemy planes destroyed in combat or during the constant strafing sweeps against Lae and Salamaua as well as the sinking of a destroyer attempting to land troops at Buna, by Flying Fortresses.

Although this attempt to reinforce the dwindling Jap garrison at Buna failed, it was apparent that an unestimated number of Japs did manage to get through sometime Saturday night or yesterday and new clashes, more fierce in intensity than any previous battles, have raged throughout the area for the last 24 hours.

The enemy flotilla which apparently reinforced beleaguered Buna was hit hard by American bombers braving monsoon weather to attack the relieving convoy. Besides the destroyer, two smaller vessels were sent to the bottom as the Fortresses and B-25's entered the fray.

SIX LARGE AXIS AIR TRANSPORTS ARE SHOT DOWN

Britain's forces in the middle east, said that air activity over the East Libya province of Cyrenaica was confined to fighter patrols.

Troop Planes Shot Down
At least six Axis transport planes, flying troops between Sicily and North Africa, were shot down into the sea as allied air forces carried out repeated attacks against enemy transports yesterday, the communiqué said.

United States air forces and the Royal Air Force carried out heavy week-end raids on Tripoli, last remaining port available to the Axis in Libya. The R. A. P. followed up a strong American attack and started four fires in Tripoli on Saturday night. Two explosions were caused at the base of a mole.

At Barce, northeast of Benghazi, numerous additional Axis prisoners were taken.

British forces which occupied Benghazi freed a number of their own troops, mostly Indian forces, who had been held captive.

REVEAL U. S. FLEET UNIT HAD BATTLE WITH FRENCH SHIPS

described as "on the conservative side," since the entire French naval force at Casablanca was sunk or damaged.

The tabulation does not include a number of merchant vessels also listed as "sunk or damaged" in Casablanca harbor.

Off Casablanca
The sea battle occurred in an area best defined by a 22-mile arc centering off Casablanca and reaching as far north of the port as Fedala where American combat troops were put ashore.

Although there were more ships engaged at Casablanca, the battle was comparable to the victory of American ships against the Spanish navy at Santiago, July 3, 1898. It was a match between surface craft, gunnery and tactics.

Like the Spanish men-o-war under Admiral Cervera, the French units were bottled in a harbor and finally crushed when they came out to fight.

If rebelling members of the lower branch cannot be shown that immediate rationing is a military necessity, they may make a direct appeal to President Roosevelt by midweek to postpone the nation-wide program until at least January 1.

The Truman committee is expected to hold its first session Thursday and Truman said that "we want to obtain all the facts relative to the nation-wide rationing order, so that the people may be made aware of whatever necessity there is for extending the rationing boundary."

made with the full knowledge of King Victor Emanuel, Crown Prince Umberto and Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's foreign minister and son-in-law.

When Mussolini heard of the movement he was said to have broken with Ciano in a violent quarrel, although no official announcement has been made of a cabinet shake-up. In any case, the Badoglio movement is believed to have been the background for recent attacks upon the Vatican on the part of the newspaper Regime Fascista, official organ of Mussolini's blackshirt party.

The prayers and songs will be broadcast as will the President's reading of his Thanksgiving Day proclamation, which will open the program.

THANKSGIVING—

This is Thanksgiving Week. We must not only give thanks for our material blessings, as we in our way, can help to make them, but we must give thanks for our spiritual blessings, our good health, good neighbors and friends, and a Christian nation, where we are free to worship as we see fit.

We must be thankful, and very much so, for the many boys who will not be home on Thanksgiving Day, but are out on the front lines fighting for us, that we may maintain these many blessings that we enjoy.

At 4:30 o'clock, the vows were pledged in the presence of the immediate families, closest relatives and few close friends. Dr. Carl Manello of Temple Emanuel, in Youngstown, O., officiated, the wedding party standing before the improvised altar in the spacious living room of the Kohn residence, before an arrangement of ferns, graceful palms and mums.

The bridal white motif was also featured in the table appointments, with unique floral arrangements at either end of the long table, set off in the glow of a single lighted candle. The tiered wedding cake, adorned the center. Dr. Manello presided as toastmaster, and called on several who responded with appropriate remarks. During this time, telegrams conveying congratulations totaling over a hundred, were read. The guests returned afterwards, to the Kohn residence.

THEY GET IT FIRST-HAND

NOT the least of the accomplishments connected with the world-wide war in which the United States is engaged is the manner in which the details of far-flung operations have been reported to the American people.

Correspondents have been doing a bang-up job in getting to Americans their first-hand stories of battles in the air, on the sea, in Egypt, in Burma, in Malaya and on the islands of the Pacific. Their individual accounts of various actions have brilliantly supplemented the official communiques.

Nowhere has front-line reporting reached greater heights than in the invasion of Africa. Possibly individual adventures elsewhere have been more thrilling in themselves, but the African invasion was on so gigantic a scale that the utmost pains and preparations were necessary to provide the people at home with clear pictures of what went on.

The handling of forty newspaper, newsreel and radio correspondents operating over a 1,000-mile front was the biggest job of field public relations the United States Army has ever tackled. And it did it just as smoothly as the forces under Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower carried out the actual invasion.

Correspondents were right up front when things began to happen. They went in planes, on aircraft carriers, transports, destroyers and all other types of craft involved in the operation.

Many of them were under fire. Some wounds were suffered. One Army public relations officer, whose job is not fighting, found himself in charge of actual combat troops and successfully completed an assignment to capture the Italian armistice commission in Algiers.

Clearing the correspondents' stories after they were written was also a tremendous task. The stories had to go through field censors, then through field public relations officers to the Signal Corps, then through Signal Corps facilities to this country by commercial cable and wireless. Because of communications limitations at first, correspondents' accounts were pooled, with each man's work being made available to all the organizations represented in the pool. Later, each agency went on its own.

The American public, which takes its world coverage of news as a matter of course, owes a deep debt of gratitude to the correspondents who, with the active cooperation of the armed services, are making that coverage possible at the risk of their lives.

WAR TRAFFIC COMES FIRST

If your passenger train happens to be a little late, or if it doesn't contain a super-deluxe lounge car complete with fancy accessories, don't start kicking at the railroads. For the railroads are just as much interested in serving you as ever, but war traffic comes first.

That war traffic reaches staggering totals. In a recent six months' period, more than 5,000,000 troops were moved—not counting soldiers on leave. Freight trains are delivering some 3,000 railcars to our eastern seaports every day. Tank cars are taking 800,000 barrels of oil daily into the east—where in normal times they carried only about 12,000. The railroads are successfully doing a job that skeptics said couldn't be done.

While doing this, they are carrying on their fine service in civilian America. In all its essentials, that service is as good as it was before the war. But, now and then, a train may be delayed because it had to wait for war trains to pass. Luxury lounge cars have been taken out of service, by order of the Office of Defense Transportation, because regular types of cars of the same size can carry more passengers. Those are mighty small "inconveniences" to pay for expediting troop trains and war freights.

The traveling public can help—by not traveling except when necessary, by making reservations as far ahead of time as possible, by not engaging more Pullman space than is actually needed, and by not demanding needless special services. It's also wise to not travel on holidays and over week-ends if you can avoid it.

Trains are running farther and faster than ever before. When you board one, reflect that no industry is doing a better or a more necessary war job.

'CALLING SHOTS' ON RATIONING

Only a few weeks ago, when meat rationing was decided upon, officials at Washington were stressing the apparent existence of ample supplies of milk products, especially cheese, which, they pointed out, could serve as meat substitutes.

Now the usual "source close to" the WPB's Food Requirements Committee somberly says that scarcities of cheese, butter and milk impend and that rationing of these articles of food is inevitable.

Apparently, when these officials told us how nice and easy it would be to use cheese for a meat substitute they didn't know what they were talking about. If the changed situation now to be met is due to farm labor scarcity, which is understandable, the men at the top in our food control program should have considered that before they trotted out meat substitutes for which other substitutes, apparently, will now have to be found.

This uncertainty, or lack of knowledge and understanding, is a major fault in the food control program. When is the nation going to get a comprehensive, thoughtful and well-studied system of food control? That is what is badly needed.

In any case it would be well to abandon, once and for all, the Washington system of calling the shots long in advance of rationing, with statements by "a source close to" that rationing—pretty soon—will be inevitable, thus precipitating a rush of the thoughtless and the selfish to stock up on the articles affected.

We had it with sugar, coffee, gasoline. It may be argued that it isn't so easy to hoard milk or cheese. It is easy enough to hoard canned milk and some kinds of cheese. That they will now be hoarded can be taken for granted.

When rationing of any article is found necessary it should be announced the day before it becomes effective, not discussed officially and semi-officially for weeks or months before it can be applied.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ENCOURAGE YOUTH IN THRIFT

Ever so many youths who should be in high school are getting jobs. Except the few who have special talents in industry and a still smaller group who hardly could profit from further school attendance, these youths would do a more patriotic service to their country by staying in school and studying.

While some youths on purely patriotic grounds quit school to go to work, most of them do so for very selfish reasons. They want money. Until recently a leading motive was a car. With that limited by rationing, many youths leaving school to work will lavish money on fine clothes and various sorts of amusement.

There can be no doubt that the recent increase in juvenile delinquency is related somewhat to the large amount of money working youths, even their parents, are spending on luxuries and wild times. Many working youths are saving nothing, not buying saving stamps and bonds, nor even paying their parents for board.

The youth who quits school to work would be so much safer morally if he could be induced to save and invest a large part of his earnings in war savings.

Schools Encourage Saving
The public schools have done exceedingly well in stimulating children to buy war saving stamps and bonds, but the efforts and good results have been far better in the elementary schools than in the high schools. Nevertheless, the older the child at school, the more he should be encouraged there and at home to invest in war savings.

I wish all leaders of youth clubs and organizations in schools and churches would emphasize more the value of self-denial through thrift as a worthy trait and patriotic duty.

Let me entreat my fellow parents who have young children to begin now to cultivate thrift in them and not to spend so much on them for their whims nor give them nearly all they desire. As soon as the child begins to spend money, let him receive it sparingly and at regular intervals. As you develop an allowance with him, require that a definite portion of it be set aside for war savings stamps in order to train him in the basic habit of thrift.

Looking ahead to Christmas, plan to spend less on film-fans and luxuries and prepare your children to spend less. Among the gifts include war saving stamps and bonds. In most homes this should come first in Christmas shopping.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(International News Service Staff Writer)

There is a little trouble about extending gas rationing beyond the eastern states but fortunately we have worked out a fair deal for all parties.

We will propose that the east continue to limp along on its three gallons a week if the west will mail us its coffee coupons.

If California is going to drive while New York walks, then California can eat its doughnuts dry while New York dunks.

Is this fair or are there two wars in progress—one for the east and one for the rest of the country?

Gas rationing has been in effect in the east since May 15 and we do not need any congressional blocs lifting voices against it.

We now propose our little counter hue-and-cry: "Coffee for the east gas for the west; let those who cannot ride, dunk."

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK — William M. Jeffers, national rubber director: "Gas rationing is going into effect throughout this country for the good reason that we must conserve rubber."

WASHINGTON — Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture voices concern over food production but adds: "The success of General Eisenhower's men and of General Montgomery's 8th army have brought us a lot closer to the day when we will be striking at Hitler in Europe itself. When that time comes we will carry out the president's pledge to feed the hungry people that we free from German rule."

BUFFALO — Otto W. Winters, president of the American society of tool engineering asks factory executives to learn feminine psychology: "You can't possibly imagine the infinite number of ways a girl can find to get into trouble in an industrial plant."

NEW YORK — Wendell Willkie praises British part in the African invasion: "The British are deliberately playing down their own contribution in order to give an extra lift to America, and also that the world will have a visible demonstration that America is fully in this war with actual fighting troops."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight, 5:39; sun rises tomorrow, 7:55.

War bonds will make a nice Christmas gift. They will be sure to be kept and will also come in handy in years to come.

And some people will be better off without coffee—or less of it.

WE STARTED SUMPIN'

Some days ago we had an item in this column saying the elephants were not afraid of mice. We got the following on the subject:

Elephants DO fear mice or rats because the mice like the soft meat in the center of the bottom of the elephant's feet. The mice, if they get a chance will chew their way up inside the foot and may fatally injure the pachyderm. Elephants have difficulty in removing the rodents once they are in the hollow of the foot. It is partly for this reason that the elephant sleeps standing up.

The guest's expression plainly showed that she sensed our hostess' disapproval of her red dress and on the way home she vowed she would never again visit the home of such a "catty" creature.

TAX PROBLEMS

Despite all this talk of terrific savings in the common man's pants pockets, there are some like the lad who wrote to his congressman:

"My financial condition is due to national laws, state laws, county laws, city laws, corporation laws, liquor laws, mother-in-laws, brother-in-laws, and outlaws. Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, school tax, gasoline tax, light tax and excise tax. I am required to get a business license and a dog license plus a marriage license and another to buy gasoline, on which I pay sales taxes."

"I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the mind of man can conceive; women's relief, unemployment relief and gold-diggers' relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution that can find me, and they never fail."

"I am required to carry health insurance, life insurance, fire insurance, property insurance, earthquake insurance, social security and unemployment insurance, accident, and storm insurance."

"I cannot find out who owns my business. I am inspected, expected, suspected, examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled to disgorge for every possible and some impossible purposes."

"If I refuse to donate I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up and robbed. Honestly, if it were not for a very fortunate event I would be unable to pay this installment on my income tax. The wolf that comes to my door just had pups in his kitchen. I was able to sell them, and here is the tax payment."

A lot of things are going to have to shut down on account of no gas. Gas has gotten to be about the most important thing in the world now. Only a few years ago we didn't know anything about it.

Some one said "We must get down to brass tacks on our pants." We'd rather lose our pants than to nail them on with brass tacks.

What's What At A Glance

Andorra Still Keeps Itself Neutral
Tiny Republic Is Respected By Hitler
Has Maintained Status Over Centuries

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—Andorra now introduces itself into the war picture. It does so as a neutral, but as a neutral that's determined to enforce its rights as such, nevertheless. Furthermore, Herr Hitler has promised to respect it—his pledge is worth anything. Press dispatches brought the news the other day. I imagine they were especially interesting to me, because I'd guess that I'm about the only citizen of the United States who ever crossed Andorra, from frontier to frontier, with a stopover at Andorra la Vieja, the capital.

Andorra la Vieja means Andorra the Old.

The burg is elderly, for a fact. The Andorran republic was established by Charlemagne, back in the 1200's A. D., and its metropolis was venerable even then. What sticks me is how the war nation has succeeded in retaining its separate identity ever since. It's a little 17 by 18-mile stretch between France's southern and Spain's northern borders along the Pyrenees, with mountain ranges both ways, and I suppose it wasn't considered worth fighting for.

It isn't like Portugal, on the western Spanish coastal seaboard. That at least has a window on the outside world. Andorra is corked up tight. That more than nine folk out of every 100 ever heard of it I have my doubts.

Endured For Centuries

That it's maintained its status as an independent republic for going on into eight centuries remains as a fact, all the same.

The Andorrans are run "by an elected body known as a syndicate, to express it, in English, with a chosen head called a syndic—in effect a president. Following a visit in Spain many years ago and bound backward toward London through France, I had the curiosity for a stopover in this land of Charlemagne's creation, and a look at its civilization. Rail transportation being lacking, I made the trip in an apology for an automobile. I interviewed the syndic, but what he said to me is immaterial at this late date.

The nub was, though, that those Andorrans were as independent as hogs on ice.

They seem so yet. The Germans, busting into Vichy France, and getting uncomfortably close to the Andorran border, evoke from the Andorran capital, the query, "Aren't you Nazis overdoing matters?"

And the Nazis apparently don't fancy pushing 'em too far.

The Spanish peninsula isn't overly pro-German.

Andorra's so small as to be rather a funny symptom in the southwestern European diagnosis. I mention it as a curiosity rather than that it signifies with its city-block of population.

The peninsula's Spanish, Portuguese and Andorran.

The Spanish are ruled at present by Francisco Franco, a so-called auditor, who corresponds to Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini, as Fuehrer and Duce.

Fuehrer Hitler still hangs on. So does Duce Mussolini, though he shows definite signs of weakening.

I think Generalissimo Franco would remain totalitarian if he be-

FORGET POLITICS

If President Roosevelt has not yet given thought to a successor of "Jimmy" Byrnes, who has become Director of Economic Stabilization, he is about the only lawyer who has not. Just as a new national political campaign begins the morning after an election, speculation about Supreme Court appointees starts as soon as a Justice dies, resigns, or qualifies in any way for the life pension of Two Thousand Dollars a year. Judges and lawyers manage to become reconciled very quickly to the demise or departure of anybody who has been in the SCOTUS family.

As ex-Justice Byrnes is from South Carolina, presumably the next occupant of the Chair will be neither a Republican nor a non-southerner. Unfortunately, for a man's judicial ability are in the equation which a nominating President constructs. Territorial, social, religious, racial, political and personal considerations are hardly negligible.

The present Court, however, is made up so largely of men who lacked Bench experience when the President honored them that perhaps he will now look to Federal or State Courts before making his choice. These are admirable, even ideal, training grounds for the problems which confront members of the United States Supreme Court.

In view of the present personnel of the Court, the Supreme Courts of States and the low Federal tribunals deserve more than the careful attention of the President.

Await Fund Reports On Tuesday Morning

A day's pay for the United War Fund Drive. The idea started in other cities but it is going over big in New Castle. From the various plants of the city come reports that employees are responding to the slogan in a generous fashion and the first results of the plan will probably be seen Tuesday at noon when the industrial group will make a report. At 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning another "early bird" report will be made by workers at a breakfast in the Castleton Hotel.

Business houses are seeing results of the day's pay contribution idea. Ivor V. Davis of the Davis Coal and Supply Company reported today that his force was enlisted one hundred per cent in the plan. Shaw-Perkins Company has been reported as being 100 per cent.

The test of any person's participation in the United War Fund Drive is to quote the old poem "not what we give but what we share." The pupils of the Neshannock Falls school in Wilmington township have set an example of such giving. Meade Gibson brought in $72.50 in cash to the drive headquarters and reported that this represented the contributions of 25 pupils of the school. The youngsters didn't have the cash on hand so they went out and earned it selling 18,920 pounds of scrap metal. Their gift is a double barreled one for the scrap will help to make the guns for the men in the service who will be aided by the UWFD. Now the youngsters say they will make the total $106.

Another rural school report comes from Bessemer where C. B. McMillan reports the grade schools as having contributed 100 per cent. Reports from the county are coming in and are encouraging.

The drive should close this week if everybody does his share. The goal of $90,000 should be passed and it will be passed if New Castle and the county districts respond in the old Lawrence County fashion. Ellwood City held its own drive and established what is thought to be a record for per capita giving.

Being just human beings, the solicitors in the drive will undoubtedly miss some potential givers. Don't let it worry you. You can get your name on the honor roll of donors by dropping in at the United War Fund headquarters at 20 East Washington street or by calling on the telephone number 2572.

In the meantime keep the slogan in mind. "A day's pay for the drive."

WMC TO IMPORT MEXICAN MINERS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The War Manpower Commission planned on Saturday to start negotiations with the Mexican government for the importation of between 5,000 and 10,000 Mexican workers to be used in America's non-ferrous mining industry.

WMC's management-labor policy committee record indicated that such a step be taken after representatives of the war department told the group that the nation's copper production was still below requirements.

It has been estimated that consumption of petroleum products in the United States during 1940 amounted to 425 gallons per capita.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Pennsylvania ranks second to New York in the number of homes with radio receiving sets, according to the results of a radio census just made public by the Census Bureau.

Of 2,453,103 homes surveyed in the Keystone state, 2,265,921, or 94 per cent, reported having receiving sets. New York gained first ranking with 3,385,620 sets in 3,544,098 homes, or 95.5 per cent of the households covered.

In Pennsylvania, 2,168,679, or 92.7 per cent of 2,339,325 white homes reported receiving sets, while 97,242 or 85.5 per cent of 113,778 non-white households reported having sets installed.

In the nation at large 28,048,219 homes, or 82.8 per cent of 33,890,506 households surveyed, were reported with radios installed.

KEEP CITY CLEAN

Sanitation means more than just keeping free from disease. It means cleanliness and orderliness and comfort. It also means freedom from bad smells. It means keeping your place looking spic and span.

It means proper disposal of garbage and other waste. It means keeping your yard cleaned up. It means rat-proofing your buildings. It means doing away with bed bugs and roaches.

A dead horse could lie in your yard for weeks and if it were protected from flies it would cause no disease. You wouldn't want it there anyhow. Sights and smell cause discomfort even if they do not cause disease.

We want our homes and our city kept sanitary. The city collects garbage free for everyone. Some people dump it along the streets just the same. Regular refuse dumps are provided with care takers. People persist in dumping refuse wherever they want to.

The department of health is trying to keep our city clean, and sanitary. Every citizen belongs to the health department ex-officio. Let's have the cleanest city in the state.

Party Is Enjoyed By Members
And Friends At Armory
Saturday Night

Members of Company B, Third Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps, took time out Saturday night to entertain their wives and sweethearts when a party was held in the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory in Cascade Park.

From 8 o'clock to midnight the group enjoyed dancing and those who didn't dance enjoyed cards in the recreation room. At 10:30 a delicious buffet lunch was served by a committee of wives of the company members.

Heading the group were Captain and Mrs. Lester W. McClelland. A special guest was Major Frank A. Weber of Beaver Falls and with him Miss Rose Miller. Local guests who attend included Louis B. Round, chairman of the Armory Board, Captain and Mrs. Frank W. Hill, Assemblyman-elect James C. Brice and Major Guy J. Wadlinger.

During the course of the evening a prize waltz was held. Instead of offering a five carat diamond or a gold watch as the prize the committee went the limit and offered a pound of coffee. The fortunate couple were Corporal and Mrs. Abe H. Klingensmith.

To Study Soviet's Synthetic Rubber

E. C. Pittman Will Head Four-

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A four-man commission of American rubber experts, it was reported Saturday, will leave in the near future for Russia to study the Soviet synthetic production program.

E. C. Pittman, president of the Interchemical Co., New York, is said to have been selected to head the group.

Pittman is attached to the office of Rubber Director William M. Jeffers and formerly was a consultant to Arthur Newhall, who was Jeffers' predecessor in charge of the nation's synthetic rubber program.

The Baruch rubber investigating committee recommended that the United States obtain the Russian "know how" on synthetic rubber manufacture and criticized officials for failure to do so earlier.

Food For Game Is Provided By State

Game-Food Plants, Trees
Grown In State Nurseries
To Plant On Game
Lands

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Food rationing may cause some inconvenience to the people of Pennsylvania but the game animals and birds of Pennsylvania should be well provided with food as a result of the distribution of game-food plants and trees raised in the state forest tree nurseries for planting on state game lands, says Secretary G. Albert Stewart of the department of forests and waters.

To date a total of 1,138,446 game-food plants and trees have been raised in the state forest tree nurseries. They included bittersweet, buckthorn, barberry, dogwood, mulberry, Siberian pea, crabapple, devil's club, spice bush and thorny rose. In addition the game commission has been furnished more than seven million evergreen seedlings and transplants for planting on state game lands for the purpose of providing shelter for game animals and birds.

To further increase the production of game-food plants and trees, an area of six acres in the Clearfield forest tree nursery was set aside during the fall of 1939, which is devoted entirely for this purpose. A total of 610,300 trees and shrubs will be shipped from this nursery for planting on state game lands during the spring of 1943. They include 56,000 bittersweet plants, 1,000 thorny rose, 6,000 elderberry, 330,000 mulberry, 212,000 Japanese rose, 5,000 dogwood, 200 chinquapin chestnut, and 100 American chestnut.

Secretary Stewart points out that in addition to furnishing plants for game-food, the department gives every consideration to such trees as provide nuts, berries and fruit in the regulations for timber stand improvement and thinning. Among those retained during thinning operations are the striped maple, alder, witch hazel, scrub oak, black gum, willow thickets, green briars, and grapevines. Wherever possible small areas through the state forests are devoted to grapevines by cutting out all the trees and erecting arbors of dead chestnut poles so as to provide shelter and food for game animals and birds. On the state forest timber cutting operations now under way, a sufficient number of seed bearing trees are left standing. These trees not only furnish seed for restocking the area but food for game. They include the oaks, hickories, cherry and beech.

The state forests are managed in such a manner as to furnish not only high grade timber but an optimum amount of game.

Promises Enough Farm Labor In '43

McNutt Assure Grocers Convention Farm Production
Will Not Suffer Labor
Shortage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, promised on Saturday that he would take any action necessary to guarantee sufficient farm labor to assure anticipated 1943 production estimates.

Addressing the convention of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., McNutt said that, if necessary, "bankers, lawyers, businessmen and housewives" would be recruited as "crop commandos" to assist in harvesting and processing foods.

McNutt also declared that cities heavily engaged in war production could not expect any additional outside labor and that manpower shortages would have to be solved by redistribution of available workmen.

War production centers are already "bursting at the seams," McNutt declared.

Anarchy in Spain?

Majoritatively speaking, Spain's pro-popular government is close to the point of anarchy. It's almost too much so. Italy verges that way. Now we have the Spanish and Italian peninsulas included generally.

Portugal and Andorra are rational little republics.

Heaven knows how they happened to stay that way. Why they preferred to do so is easy enough to guess. But how it happens that the big powers permitted 'em to choose for themselves is a puzzle.

I don't believe there are many kind of folk who recognize that there are THREE governments south of that squeeze in the Spanish peninsula.

And there's this to be recalled—For years back, there have been Frenchmen who have believed in a close Franco-German affiliation. It's no new idea. It ante-dates the last world war by a generation.

It's no modern invention by Paris' up-to-date fixers. It's left over from muddling ancient history.

It shouldn't be forgotten that Franco-English friction existed a heck of a while into past centuries. Some of these Frenchmen still seem to feel it sizzling in their systems today, just as we might, if we allowed ourselves recollections of Revolutionary war days.

Experiments on bird migration show increasing and decreasing amounts of sunlight to be a more important factor than temperature.

UP! AMERICA!

... we only have today

TOMORROW may be the day of lost causes, of men on their knees.

Nothing matters so much as time. Nothing is so precious as the man-hours needed to build more bombers, more ships, more tanks.

For speed, more speed, still more speed, we have the necessary energy if we use it properly.

How can we gain time? How can we make sure that every ounce of energy goes unwasted?

Light is one way . . . because light—good light—speeds production, cuts down spoilage and accidents. Good light saves time.

... Because light—good light—helps people see easier, with less effort. By decreasing the eyestrain and nervous tension of poor seeing, it saves energy.

It is time to put this tremendous force to work—now. The dictators are still saying we can't make it in time.

America says we will!

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Prime Minister Nuri es Sadi of Iraq, addressed an open letter Saturday to President Roosevelt congratulating him upon the north African offensive and declaring that the operation "constitutes a threat to the weakest link in the Axis chain."

The letter, which was made public at the White House, Sadi predicted that when Tunisia is occupied, "Italy will have to be heavily reinforced by Germany if the death throes of the Axis are not postponed."

The Moslem chieftain told the president that he has been "impressed and amazed" at the daring conception and perfection of organization of the north African operation.

Graduates of Geneva college from New Castle and immediate vicinity in the classes of 1939, '40, '41 and '42 have been invited to be the guests of the executive committee of the general alumni association on the college campus the night of December 5. SOLDIER MAIL DELAYED HERE; POSTAGE SHORT

Warn Parents That Six-Cent Air Mail Covers Only Half Ounce

Delays—even of a week in some cases—in outgoing letters to New Castle soldiers overseas were reported at the post office today as parents and other mailers made the mistake of putting one six-cent air mail stamp on letters weighing one ounce.

A six-cent air mail stamp is required for each half-ounce. Postmaster William R. Hanna stressed today the post office, following out department regulations, returned scores of letters to their senders. Some came from rural routes here, and a day or two will be required before the letter has been received by the original sender.

"Don't forget," reminded the postmaster, "a six-cent air mail stamp carries only a half ounce of mail."

He said the post office cannot send the letters onward to their destination without the correct postage.

RUSSIAN FORCES DRIVING AHEAD AGAINST NAZIS

tacks in the Stalingrad factory area during the night but that both assaults were repulsed.

In the mid-Caucasus Soviet artillery batteries destroyed seven German strongpoints southeast of Nalchik.

On the northwestern front, it was said, the Russians occupied a fortified point and captured much war material.

South of Voronezh, 300 miles northwest of Stalingrad, Italian troops attempted to force a wedge into Soviet positions but the effort was frustrated.

The DNB announcement on the new Soviet offensive said that the drives on both sides of Stalingrad were made "with the ultimate aim of pinning down the German forces on the eastern front before winter really starts."

Drive Wedges Into Lines

It was admitted that in fighting of "unabated fury" the Soviets succeeded in driving wedges into the German lines in a campaign to chop off German defense positions on the flanks of these wedges.

"British and American tanks appeared for the first time in this sector," DNB said.

"Timoshenko yesterday continued to attack on a grand scale hurling in armored units and ruthlessly flinging in one infantry division after another. Single Russian tanks forged ahead and penetrated behind German and Rumanian lines where they attempted to destroy supply lines. A large number of them were destroyed by Axis planes.

"South of Stalingrad conditions were the same. The Russians were unable to break the concentrated defense of the Luftwaffe and German armor-piercing weapons and on the evening of the third day of this battle for Stalingrad the Russians had not attained their ambitious aims."

The capture of two rail towns, Krivo Muzinskaya, 10 miles southeast of Kalach which lies 40 miles northwest of Stalingrad, and Abganerovo, 32 miles southwest of the Volga city, cut the Nazi forces east of the Don Bend from all rail communication.

A Soviet high command communique said that Russian forces were pressing steadily forward breaking all German resistance as they advanced.

Aimed At Two Points

The present Russian offensive northwest of Stalingrad was aimed at two points—toward Kalach which is the dead end of a railway branch 70 miles long and stands at the southern extremity of the big Don Bend, and Serafimovich, a small city far from Kalach which is at the northern end of the Don Bend.

Rev. John Smith Speaker At Thank Offering Service

Missionary Interned By Japs At Outbreak Of War Tells Of Experiences

Rev. John C. Smith, missionary representing the Presbyterian church in Japan, who was interned by the Japs at the outbreak of hostilities, and who was repatriated last summer, spoke of his interesting experiences at the annual Praise and Thank-Offering service of the missionary societies of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening.

Rev. Smith spoke of the worth-whileness of the missionary effort, reciting the fact that while 141 missionaries returned from Japan and countries occupied by them last summer, that there are still over 600 missionaries representing the Presbyterian church in the foreign field, three of whom are still in Japanese occupied territory.

The committee from the Helena auxiliary, which had charge of the program, included Mrs. W. Pond, the president, Mrs. W. K. Conover, Mrs. Joe S. McKee, Mrs. W. L. Nesbitt, Mrs. C. N. Moore and Mrs. R. N. McBurney.

Mrs. A. B. Street, representing the Daughters of Lydia, gave the invocation; Mrs. W. A. Margraf, of the Hershey auxiliary, read the scriptures, with Mrs. John J. McIlwaine, wife of the pastor, introducing the speaker. Thank-offering was presented by Mrs. F. R. Woods, Presbyterian treasurer; with Mrs. C. N. Moore, of the Helena auxiliary giving the prayer of dedication.

Music during the service was presented by the Schubert Sextette, with Mrs. Madeline Hugh singing the Lord's Prayer as a solo number. The collection taken during the evening goes to the missionary program of the church.

Aircraft Control Widens WPB Power

Nelson's Creation Of "Little WPB" For Plane Production Without Army, Navy Approval

By PHILLIPS PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Creation of a "little WPB" for aircraft was interpreted today as evidence of Donald M. Nelson's determination to take complete control of war production into his own hands during the critical months ahead.

Although Nelson nominally was made chief of the nation's war production effort last January, much of the control actually has been exercised by the armed services with WPB serving primarily in the materials field.

Last week, however, the WPB chairman announced that the job of directing production of upward of 100,000 planes in 1943 had been turned over to Charles E. Wilson, WPB vice chairman and former president of General Electric.

Nelson made the announcement without waiting for approval of the action by army and navy. Even yet, it was learned, the armed services have not countersigned Nelson's directive transferring complete responsibility for aircraft production to Wilson.

Approval of the services is unnecessary, however, under terms of President Roosevelt's executive order vesting production control with Nelson and the WPB chief at last appears determined to exercise the powers belonging to him.

Wilson will head a four man board composed of himself, Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Echols of the Army Air Corps, Rear Admiral Joseph Dayson, of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, and Harold E. Talbot, chief of the WPB aircraft division.

GIRL CUTS FOOT

Judy Metz, aged 11 years, of 219 West Sheridan avenue, sustained a laceration of the left leg, when she stepped on a picture frame, which was lying on the floor of her home, Sunday evening. She was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the Christmas Seal Drive is Opened

Seals Are Delivered To Local Homes As Start Of Campaign

War on tuberculosis is renewed in Lawrence county, with this year's annual campaign officially getting underway today. The seals were placed in the mail Saturday and delivered throughout a wide area in Lawrence county today.

For the past several weeks groups of willing workers from churches and social organizations have been meeting from time to time at local headquarters, Room 219, in the Lawrence Savings and Trust building and donating their services in preparing seals and letters for the campaign.

Enclosed in each envelope will be a message of appeal, and it is hoped that residents throughout the county will be generous as in the past by sending in their remittance promptly.

Eighty percent of the entire proceeds realized is spent in Lawrence county toward the fight on tuberculosis. The annual campaign is a forward movement in helping others to health. Tuberculin tests, health programs X-rays and other advanced steps have been promoted in combating this disease, which has taken a tremendous toll of lives. During the period from 1937 to 1940 tuberculosis killed more Americans than were killed in action, or died from wounds received in action, during all the wars the United States has fought since 1776.

This menace of tuberculosis is steadily reduced each year by Christmas Seal funds.

Buy and use Christmas seals! They are the sole support of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Association.

Andrew M. Dodds is Christmas Seal chairman, and Mrs. Helen Vonderau is executive secretary.

Seals will be on sale at the post office news counter and the local headquarters in the L. S. & T. building for persons having not received any through the mail, or for those desiring to purchase more.

THE FOREST WAS BARE

Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard had nothing on the forests of Jefferson county in the past few days insofar as Sheriff Clyde D. Badger is concerned. The cupboard was bare and so was the forest. Bare of bear for the sheriff didn't bring back a single bruin. Some of the court house attaches had a bear already divided. County Controller Frank W. Hill had visions of a saddle of bear meat roasted, and Andy Dodds wanted the hide to make a fur coat, and some of the girls in the county commissioners' office were talking of a bear steak fry. They'll all take fish and like it.

COUNTY EXPENDITURES

During the month of October the county spent $32,066.27 from the general fund according to a compilation by County Controller Frank W. Hill. To Resume Building Of Big Battleships

Other Naval Craft More Urgently Needed Now, However, Says Senator Walsh

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Sen. David I. Walsh (D-Mass., chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee, said today that the construction of battleships will be resumed by the navy "just as soon as the construction of other naval vessels immediately and presently needed are completed."

The statement was made in answer to questions as to whether the decision announced by the navy months ago to cancel plans to lay down keels on mammoth new battleships might be revoked.

Walsh praised the success of big "battleships" in the naval fighting around the Solomon Islands. Admirals have declared that the destruction of Japanese warships shows that the battleships are still a potent weapon.

Asked whether the policy of stressing building of aircraft carriers and lighter type ships would be reversed, Walsh replied:

"That decision was based solely on the ground that other naval craft, such as carriers, are much more needed in naval operations at this time.

"The postponement is only for the purpose of building up other naval weapons of which there is more need at the moment than battleships. It is certain that the construction of battleships will be resumed just as soon as the construction of other naval vessels immediately and presently needed are completed.

The accused slayer was reported in a serious condition in the York hospital, suffering from severe burns which he received, police asserted, when he attempted to burn the body after he plunged a butcher knife into his mother's back as she was hulling walnuts.

CONDITION SERIOUS

CAREFUL FEEDING OF FALL CHICKS NEEDED

If fall and winter brooded chicks are to grow well, they must eat enough of a well-prepared mash mixture. While this is a good rule for any season of the year, it is especially important when chicks are grown under confinement conditions.

In the warmer seasons of the year, chicks can be outdoors and have access to sunshine and tender greens to supplement the ration. However, well-prepared rations provide all the essential feedstuffs for good growth at any season.

Why is it that sometimes chicks fail to grow well even though a good ration is fed? This may be due to faulty feeding conditions. There may be too little feeding space, feeders may be poorly constructed and uninviting for use, while poor brooding conditions may affect chick health or improper attention to details may slow up chick growth. With a very cold brooder room and heat confined to the hover, chicks may not come out to eat.

Feeders should be placed part way under the hover for a few days in an arrangement like the spokes of a wheel. With a mash mixture that is to be fed as all-mash one may be feeding too much grain and thereby reducing the intake of essential things like vitamins. Then, too, chicks that are stunted by poor management or disease cannot utilize feed they do eat to the best advantage.

A 2-foot feeder that allows chicks to eat from both sides will take care of 50 day-old chicks. At two weeks of age, the amount of feeder space should be doubled. As the chicks grow older the size of the feeder as well as feeding space must be increased so that at least half of the brood can eat at one time and feed will not be wasted through spillage.

The manufacturer's directions should be followed when feeding a particular mash mixture. Observe if it is to be fed as an all-mash mixture or if grain also may be fed. A mash mixture may be so formulated that grain can be fed with it from the beginning. Then, too, there must be ample watering space and plenty of clean, fresh water. Plan to have 1 quart capacity for every 15 to 20 chicks for the first two or three weeks. After that, use larger amounts. Automatic waterers will save labor when they can be used.

MULCH STRAWBERRIES WHEN GROUND FREEZES

The practice of mulching strawberries has enough important advantages to justify more general and thorough use in Lawrence County. One of the more important advantages is that mulch when applied to frozen ground tends to keep it frozen, thus preventing alternate freezing and thawing which "heaves" some plants out of the ground, seriously injures the roots of others, and materially reduces the yield of fruit.

Damage from spring frosts may be largely avoided by leaving the mulch on as long as possible in the spring. Blossoming may thus be delayed as much as a week or 10 days. A very light mulch will not do this, as the plants will grow up through it. Where a heavy application is made, however, the plants will not grow through, and the material may be left in place until some leaves begin to show yellowish color. Enough mulch must be removed then to allow the plants to grow through the remainder.

During the picking season the mulch keeps the berries clean and free from grit, and helps to conserve soil moisture and to smother weeds. Very low temperatures may seriously injure or kill plants which are not protected by a mulch and are not covered by snow. Though this source of loss is comparatively small in the average winter, it may be important in such severe seasons as recently experienced.

Wheat straw is perhaps the best material for mulching. However, various other materials have been successfully used. Rye straw is fairly good, but is a little coarse unless chopped. Barley, buckwheat, and oats straw are used, but they tend to pack down rather tightly and smother the plants somewhat. Even corn stalks, potato vines, shredded corn fodder, or leaves may be considered superior to no mulch.

Whatever the material used, it should be free from grain, grass, and weed seeds. If too many foreign seeds are introduced into the strawberry patch, the weed problem may become so great as to offset the benefits of the mulch.

In Pennsylvania the best time for applying the material is usually in late November or early December, about the first time the ground becomes well frozen. The mulch should be spread several inches deep over the plants and the area between the rows. Four tons of dry straw to the acre make a comparatively light mulch. Seven tons to the acre are better for severe winter conditions.

It is often advisable to haul out the mulching material and distribute it in small piles at intervals along the patch several weeks before it is to be spread. Thus it becomes damp and is more likely to remain in place when spread. Dry straw may blow away badly before it has become sufficiently settled.

SPRAY FOR PEACH LEAF CURL AND BROWN ROT

To prevent peach leaf curl and to reduce brown rot of peaches spraying is recommended.

While there was little leaf curl in Lawrence County during the past season, where the disease was present the orchards should be sprayed. Leaf curl is rarely destructive in an orchard where it was not present the year before.

Application of 1.015 specific gravity lime sulfur, approximately 5 gallons of concentrate in 100 gallons of spray, is recommended. Apply the spray when the leaves are mold. Grinding in a hammer mill is a satisfactory way of preparing such materials. Corn cobs, especially, should be ground to particles about the size of shelled peas.

The floor should first be covered with at least 2 inches of litter. More can be added until a depth of at least 4 inches is reached. Much time, labor, and cost of materials can be saved by proper handling of the litter.

It is difficult to apply a general rule as to frequency of cleaning of litter. By using fine, dry materials of proper depth and keeping the litter stirred, some growers are able to brood chicks to market age without a change of litter. However, wet spots around the water containers must be removed and dry litter spread over the area. It is advisable to remove all litter and replace with new when it is evident that the condition is unsatisfactory.

CARE OF HARNESS IS IMPORTANT FARM TASK

All harness makers tell the same story. They report 15 to 20 percent more business than ever before, but Lawrence County farmers are warned of impending limitation of leather supplies.

One of the reasons for the shrinking supply for farm needs is that the arm'd forces are getting the bulk of the leather for gun covers and other equipment. At the same time, an increased demand for harness materials is expected as tractors and tractor parts decrease or run out.

Therefore, farmers should consider the use of replacement parts before ordering a new harness, but if a new harness is needed it should be ordered as early as possible.

To help relieve the situation, care of the harness is of great importance. A careful inspection for breaks or weak places 2 or 3 times a year will help to avoid breaking and costly delays during the busy season.

Take the harness apart for cleaning, repairing, and oiling. The harness should be soaked in soapy water for 10 to 15 minutes, each piece scrubbed until clean, and then rinsed well. Repair or replace worn straps.

After cleaning and when the harness is nearly dry, rub edge blocking on parts where needed and oil with warm neat's foot oil or a good commercial harness oil. If the harness is very dry, a second oiling may be necessary. The oil should be rubbed thoroughly into the leather and allowed to dry slowly. After it is dry it is sometimes best to rub the straps with a lather made of harness soap to remove excess grease.

Russian Offensives Discussed By Expert

Editor note.—The recent Russian offensives are discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might".

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The reported pincer offensive launched by the Soviet to the northwest and south of Stalingrad if as successful as reported, exceeds the hopes of the most optimistic in the United Nations.

I have always been of the opinion that, winter or no winter, the moment the Red armies had the opportunity of attacking the Nazis in force they would do so, and now it has happened—apparently with undreamed-of success.

The Moscow radio claims that Klach, on the east bank of the Don bend and immediately west of Stalingrad, has been recaptured. This means that, with continued Russian success, the narrow neck of land between the Don and Volga rivers will soon be cleared of Nazi invaders.

Of ever greater importance, the Russians allege they have captured Abganerovo, which is 35 miles south of Stalingrad and directly on the main railroad route from that city to the Black sea port of Novorossiisk. This route is the most needed line of supply to the Nazi army at Stalingrad, because replenishment for these forces could be shipped through the Black sea to Novorossiisk, and thence to Stalingrad. Thus cutting off miles of overland haulage on crowded facilities through southern Russia.

Another Route Open

But we must remember there apparently is still a rail route open to Hitler's troops from Stalingrad to Rostov. However, if the advance continues with the success already alleged, this second railroad will shortly be cut and rendered unusable for the Nazi armies.

The entire Russian offensive is of tremendous strategic importance. First, the pincer attack from the north and south of Stalingrad is aimed at encircling and entirely cutting off the Axis army, which has been assaulting and besieging that Volga river city. Once the route of supply of this army is permanently cut, and the army itself surrounded, the doom of this legion of Hitler's is sealed.

Secondly, if this Soviet drive can cut straight across the upper Caucasus region to, say, Rostov or Novorossiisk, all of the Axis troops now attempting to force the central Caucasus mountain passes will likewise be entrapped. They are cut off from the Black sea by the mountains, and it is quite possible that they would not be able to attempt even a "Dunkerque withdrawal". All of this sounds too good to be true.

Reds On Offensive

The United Nations stopped the Japanese offensive at Guadalcanal. General MacArthur has started an offensive against the Nipponese by way of New Guinea. The British have blitzkrieged through Rommel's Afrika Korps in Egypt and Libya. The United Nations have invaded and taken the offensive in Northern Africa. Through 17 months the Soviet armies have fought Hitler's Legions to a standstill, and now assume a full-fledged offensive.

With our invasion of North Africa, many die-hard second European frontiers failed or refused to realize that this seizure of all northern Africa was of far more strategic importance, at that time, to the United Nations war effort, than would have been an actual invasion of Europe.

Furthermore, Italy has reached an internal condition which will demand that Hitler garrison that entire country to prevent their secession from the Axis. This all adds up to the fact that Hitler must withdraw many units from the Russian front to man the southern line.

This may have already commenced, though it is doubtful. Troop movements of this magnitude overland require much time and planning. Nevertheless, the terrific danger, which has arisen literally overnight to the Axis at Tunisia, must have caused Marshal Goering to send many air units to Sicily and other threatened points in the fighting for the control of Tunisia.

The British caused complete Axis confusion in Egypt and Libya. Now if the Russians do the same thing in their country, it will not be long before the confusion is so complete that it spells the doom of Herr Hitler.

Provide Money To Resurface Streets

Council met this morning in city hall, adopted legislation which provided $10,000 for resurfacing of several streets then sent instructions to the city solicitor to prepare a bill which, if adopted, will provide for the opening of a street along the Erie railroad property between Grant and Falls streets.

Council then adjourned until Wednesday but not before providing that the city hall would be closed Thanksgiving day.

FINANCE DIRECTOR RETURNS TO OFFICE

Finance Director Albert Hoyland, who has been ill, returned today to his desk in city hall. It is likely that council will meet informally at different periods this week to compile appropriations necessary for the city government next year.

Africa tells the whole story—for those who can learn. Our boys can win anywhere if they have the tools.

A. T. And T. President Issues Statement In Federal Toll Order

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The following statement was issued by Walter S. Gifford, President, American Telephone & Telegraph Company in connection with the order of the Federal Communications Commission, which requires the American Telephone & Telegraph Company to show cause why its toll rates as well as other charges should not be substantially reduced.

"I find it difficult to understand why the Federal Communications Commission has issued such an order contemplating a drastic rate reduction because under the circumstances it would seem to make no sense.

"The important thing is to win the war and the Commission's program will interfere with our service which is vital to the war effort. With our lines overloaded, we are having a hard time to handle the calls we have now and we can't get the materials to handle more—neither is there manpower to spare to handle more. At the urgent request of the Board of War Communications, we are spending millions of dollars in advertising to get the public to reduce its use of long distance, and now comes the Commission seeking to reduce rates which will do just the opposite. I fail to see how by any stretch of the imagination a reduction in long distance rates will help win the war. The Company therefore, feels it must resist a reduction in spite of the fact that a rate case would require the time of many people who are urgently needed to carry on telephone service in these critical times.

"As to Long Lines earnings, the Commission's figures are misleading because they do not include all taxes. Our earnings as a whole, include long distance business, are substantially lower than last year and are short of the dividend which we have paid for the last twenty-two years."

Holiday Gaiety To Be Tempered

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 23.—The traditional Christmas gaiety, so far as street decorations are concerned, is likely to be tempered because of the war situation this year, the state department of commerce reports, but nevertheless many Pennsylvania towns and cities are making plans to present a holiday atmosphere in some form or other.

In some communities decision has already been reached to abandon the colorful displays of electric lighting in the main business districts. Others are still considering such displays.

Many communities plan to have displays of evergreen trees, holly and laurel. For the most part the "tinsel and glitter" will be gone, however. Some towns and cities will have only the customary community Christmas tree or trees.

GOOD SIGN

(International News Service) LONDON—Fear of invasion of the British Isles is at last becoming a thing of the past. At least that's the inference that may be drawn from the following announcement issued in the House of Commons:

"Direction signposts are to be re-stored at key road junctions in towns—subject to military sanction—throughout Britain in the near future."

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor has asserted that Rep. Ira T. Fiss of Snyder county probably will be the next speaker of the house of representatives, succeeding Elmer D. Kilroy (D) of Philadelphia. At the same time, Taylor indicated that Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn of Delaware will be the majority floor leader in the upper chamber, succeeding Sen. James A. Galtz of Allegheny county. Sen. Charles H. Ealy of Somerset county will be re-elected president pro tempore, it is also reported. Fiss has been a member of the house since 1936 and jumped into prominence during the 1941 session when he sponsored the so-called "boxcar" bill to allow trucks to increase weights on state highways.

Selection of Heyburn to lead the Republican majority in the senate would give the Republicans one of the fastest-thinking leaders they have had in years. Galtz, while an able man, usually came out second best when he jumped into a floor argument with Sen. Harry Shapiro, Philadelphia Democrat and minority floor leader. Shapiro usually tied Galtz into so many knots that the majority floor leader was unable to extricate himself without aid. Heyburn has given Shapiro an able argument on many occasions by bulldozing his statements with statistics.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—A large number of Union men attended the meeting of Local Union 1220, National Tube company, held yesterday afternoon in the labor temple.

Jack Rinker, president, presided, and made some interesting remarks. Plans were also laid to hold a get-together and a smoker of all Union men in the Ellwood District on December 5.

Two Are Injured In Week-End Accidents

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—A New Castle woman and a local man are confined to the local hospital suffering from injuries received in two accidents here during the week-end.

Mrs. Mary O. LaMie, aged 50, of 510 Whippoorwill street, New Castle, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee last night when she was struck by a car while crossing Fifth street, near Nicholls' Bakery shop. The car was driven, police said, by William C. Kirk, Route 2, this city. Details of the accident were not given in the police report.

Harry Miller, aged 68, of Ellwood City, Route 2, had his left arm amputated on Saturday when he was struck by a B. and O. freight train on the railroad trestle near here, hospital attendants report.

Merry Party For Fourth Birthday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—Susanah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Gallaher, was delightfully entertained with a merry party on Saturday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Gallaher, Ellwood-Zelenople road. The event was her fourth birthday anniversary with a large group being in attendance. Many games and contests were played after which tasty refreshments featuring birthday appointments and a cake were served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. William Ruby.

The honor guest was presented with many attractive gifts.

SEEK LABOR TO COMPLETE ROAD

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—A. B. Long, superintendent of the Beaver County Highway department, prevailed upon the Chamber of Commerce today to help him obtain enough labor to bring about a completion of the Beaver county end of the road at the Ellwood-Koppel bridge.

The labor shortage is terrific in Beaver county and only four men are working in the crew now and it will take an additional 20 men if the road is to be finished. Anyone wishing employment on the highway department project are urged to contact Chamber Secretary R. J. Schill. Workers from the valley who are working in local plants here are now driving an extra 14 miles per day by going through Wampum. With gas rationing going into effect on December 1, it means a severe handicap to these workers.

MERCHANTS WILL MEET TUESDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—The Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce will meet tomorrow night in the municipal auditorium at 8 o'clock. Important business on the docket includes a discussion of the truck gasoline rationing problem—Christmas promotional plans—industrial developments—annual election of officers and other items of importance.

ALIQUIPPA ELEVEN VERSATILE OUTFIT

Scheduled to battle undefeated and untied Aliquippa for the Class AA WPIAL football trophy Thanksgiving afternoon, on Ambridge high's grid. New Castle is rambling through a strenuous session this afternoon.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sent his proteges through a light drill Saturday afternoon, but informed the athletes that today's program will be stiff.

Russ Currie, Tom Sanfilippo and Tony Razzani vary men on the injured list, passed up last week's practices, but figure to participate in the closing sessions. They will be in shape to perform in the title skirmish.

Coach Bridenbaugh and his assistants are cooking up a lot of new stuff to serve the Quips. The mentor, quite naturally, prefers keeping mum regarding his offensive maneuvers.

Lee in Shape

Bob "General" Lee, the team's spearhead, is getting back into shape after being maulled around for 10 games. The colored sensation has been suffering with a left shoulder injury since the Sharon game. His legs and face have taken a shelling all season long.

The "Canes" will wind up training on Wednesday afternoon with a light workout.

Versatile Aliquippa, headed by Odvay, a master gridsman, is loading its bag of tricks. The Quips fire their offense from a double wing formation similar to that used by Mt. Lebanon.

Aliquippa will hold a weight edge over the locals.

Because of their perfect mark, the valley grids will trot onto the field as the favorite.

GROVE CITY, Nov. 23.—The second war-time season of Grove City college basketball will be a case of getting the most out of the inexperienced material. Coach Carl Ruffner discovered after a week of drills. Only four lettermen have returned, while four of the five regular starters from last year's successful club are missing, along with a first-string substitute.

Returning lettermen are Bob Hutchison, Butler senior, regular guard last year; Wide Easton, junior guard from Sharon; George Steck, Oil City junior forward, and John Sackett, senior forward from Olean, N. Y. Graduated were Walt Moore, and Bob Hulton, high-scoring forwards; Cozy Fowler, star center, and Bill Towle, guard and three-year letter winner, and the Army claimed Red Smith, center replacement.

"Red" McClelland, forward with the 1940-41 squad, has returned to school to bolster the team, and a number of promotions are expected from last year's junior varsity, while several promising freshmen are drilling.

Coach Ruffner, whose basketball teams at the Long Island prep school where he served the past seven years have been highly successful, favors Clair Bee's Long Island U. style of play, and he has been drilling the squad on fast ball handling and set and pivot shooting in the early drills.

The scheduled opening game was a war-casualty when Buffalo State found transportation problems too acute and canceled the opener here for Dec. 12th. The complete schedule follows:

Dec. 16, Youngstown, away; Jan. 8, St. Vincent, home; Jan. 12, Allegheny, home; Jan. 16, Geneva, home; Jan. 19, Clarion, away; Jan. 25, Case, away; Jan. 30, Penn. away; Feb. 5, Youngstown, home; Feb. 9, Slippery Rock, away; Feb. 12, Fredonia, home; Feb. 16, Thiel, home; Feb. 20, St. Vincent, away; Feb. 23, Clarion, home; Feb. 26, Slippery Rock, home; March 4, Geneva, away; March 6, Allegheny, away; March 9, Thiel, away.

MADISON, Wis.—Three members of the University of Wisconsin squad hold noteworthy championships in other sports. John Roberts, senior guard candidate, is the Western Conference 176 pound king in wrestling. George Markris, senior guard, won the NCAA light heavyweight boxing title last year in his first year of completion in the college ring. Elroy Hirsch, sophomore left half, holds the AAU broadjump title of Wisconsin.

RECORD INTACT

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 23.—The Wilmington Clippers today boasted a record of nine consecutive games without defeat after holding the Philadelphia Eagles to a 21-21 tie before 8,500 fans. The Eagles rolled up a three-touchdown lead before the Clippers hit their stride.

BUCKS HIS MEAT

Carl Hubbell has beaten the Pittsburgh Pirates 46 times and the Pirates have beaten him only 20 times.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Washington Redskins won from the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday 23 to 3 at Washington to clinch the eastern division title of the National Football league and in Detroit the Chicago Bears walloped the Detroit Lions to capture the western division title. In the Pittsburgh game, the Steelers unleashed plenty of power and overwhelmed the Chicago Cardinals 19 to 3, before more than 20,000 spectators. Green Bay Packers and the New York Giants tied 21 to 21.

Although the small game season is yet in and some sought bear last week there are others who hate to lay away the fishing rod. They have been lying here and there in the hope of finding a muskie in the mood to strike.

Three Teams Tied In Hockey League

(International News Service)

The National Hockey League race today had resolved into a triple tie for the lead by the Detroit Red Wings, the Chicago Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The bottom-place Rangers broke a long string of defeats by tying the Red Wings 4 to 4 at Madison Square Garden, scoring a goal in the last minute of the third period.

The Boston Bruins nosed out the Leafs with a 7 to 6 victory at Beantown, thus putting themselves just behind the triple tiers.

The Montreal Canadiens, by a final period burst which netted three goals, held the Blackhawks to a 3 to 3 tie at Chicago.

The three leading teams have 10 points each in the standings with Boston next with 8 points, Canadiens, 7, and the Rangers holding the cellar with 5.

County Coaches To Hold Meeting Wednesday Night

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Thanks to young Forrest Hall, 150-pound halfback from Oil City, Duquesne universities' razzle-dazzle football team today held a 6-0 victory over Villanova college before 20,000 fans at Shibe Park.

Emerging from a tricky reverse in the second quarter, Hall raced 59 yards across Villanova's goal line for the lone score of the game.

Coach Buff Donelli's myriad formations kept the Wildcats constantly bewildered while the sturdy Duquesne line held Villanova to a total of minus-eight yards from scrimmage. The Dukes netted 250 yards in rushing the ball.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER

INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—There is another thing or two that should be said about the Brooklyn Dodger situation before it is entirely dismissed pending further developments, and this has to do with how long Leo Durocher will last as manager now that he has been re-signed to lead the club again. It may be a little harsh to speculate on a man's future at a time like this in the set-up on the banks of the Gowanus, but the facts are apparent and Durocher may not last long enough next year to break a single umpire's ear drum with his inactivity.

It was pointed out some time ago in these dispatches that when Rickman was at St. Louis even successful managers who previously had followed the strictest tenets of the club sometimes were fired and occasionally in the middle of the season.

Durocher Successful

Durocher has been a success in Brooklyn, with a third place finish, a second place, a first place and a second in four years, but the terms under which he was retained were all Rickman's and they will impose on Durocher certain stringent changes in his behavior, backed up by a player-manager contract that will permit his dismissal on a moment's notice or on 10 days' notice, to be exact.

Durocher had to reach agreements on a number of points to get the job again, and it seems now that the contract which he will work under was designed more as a club over him than as an instrument to put him back in the ball game. Rickman may actually want him to play next season, as he insists, but he also seems to want Durocher to know that if they don't get along, there will be no necessity for Durocher to finish out the year.

While the new coach to be selected for the vacancy left by the firing of Charlie Dressen must meet with Durocher's approval, according to Rickman, the new coach could be in line for managership, I guess, in case anything goes wrong.

Some insist, because of the praise heaped upon Fred Fitzsimmons by Rickman, that the former pitcher and current coach of the club would be management of the Dodgers if he would but accept Rickman's proffered job as manager at Montreal, the Brooklyn farm. He could get experience there. Fitzsimmons is Rickman's kind of a guy.

However, Fitzsimmons doesn't want to go to Montreal, and that being making a move toward eventual may end that deal. Red Corriden, the other coach, is being retained in that capacity.

Leo Fine Manager

In justice to Durocher it should be pointed out that he has been a fine manager for Brooklyn. He made some mistakes, some glaring mistakes in his department, but whether Larry MacPhail condoned these things or deplored them, he also was the kind of a free-wheeling gent who would unwittingly inspire in his manager something less than gentility.

Under Rickman, Durocher would have been less boisterous, shall we say, and he will be toned down beginning this year. He already is committed to a different program. He probably will be just as good and perhaps a better manager under the restrictions. He must respect Rickman's wisdom and character, and the things the new boss stands for. This could go on to a long and happy association. Or it could, and possibly will, end unexpectedly any afternoon.

Ohio State Wins Big Ten Garland

Buckeyes Cop Five Triumphs Lose One In Torrid Grid Skirmishes

By H. C. WARREN

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Ohio State today held the Western Conference football championship, but there was one cloud on the title, the fact that the only team to beat the Buckeyes during the season was Wisconsin, holder of second place honors.

Ohio State with five wins and one loss finished the season with a percentage of .833, while Wisconsin, with four wins and one defeat wound up with .800. If Ohio State's triumph is clouded by the fact that Wisconsin defeated the Buckeyes during the regular season, Coach Paul Brown's men can find a ray of sunshine in the fact that the University of Iowa did what they couldn't defeat Wisconsin. But for that 6 to 2 setback by Iowa, Wisconsin would have been on top of the Big Ten today and Ohio State in second place.

Prove Superior

Ohio State left little doubt in the minds of 71,886 fans who viewed the 21 to 7 victory over Michigan Saturday as to the relative merits of the two teams. It could be that the triumph over Notre Dame a week previous proved a costly affair for Coach Fritz Ciesler's Wolverines. It is pretty difficult to key a team for two successive games and the Wolverines were keyed for Notre Dame and looked to be considerably off their stride for the all important Ohio State game.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher's Badgers proved that their 17 to 7 victory over Ohio State was no fluke in the manner in which they ran rough shod over Minnesota's Gophers, 20 to 6. Wisconsin played like a championship team Saturday and no argument could convince the student body at Madison that its team is second to anybody in the Big Ten, percentage figures notwithstanding.

That old oaken bucket still swings lazily in the trophy room at Bloomington as the result of Indiana's 20 to 0 triumph over Purdue's hapless boilersmokers.

Northwestern is closing one of its worst seasons in history, but future athletic historians will never forget to include the name of Otto Graham as one of the greatest Wildcat football players of all times.

In his passing duel with Angelo Bertelli of Notre Dame Saturday, Graham had a definite edge but he did not have the ground strength behind him that Bertelli had, which accounted for the Irish 27 to 20 win.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Monday wash:

So you'd like to be a high school football coach? Since it is impossible to print the innumerable items attached to the job, I'll touch a few of the rudimentary phases in a few paragraphs.

From mid-July until the tail end of November, you'll literally eat and sleep football. The last week in August rolls around and the annual grid call. A general meeting to count noses, a workout that day, the following day then camp.

For one solid week, you must start molding together your material, methodically, wisely. An encouragement here, patience, more patience, practice, practice and more practice. Back into town. More encouragement, patience, practice and more practice.

The first game, mistakes. Ah! Lots of them. Back on the practice field. Countless more hours correcting errors. The second of a 10-game schedule nears. You must hurry. Plan the offensive-defensive tactics.

Then, you must work out new plays; treat the halfback for a leg injury and a tackle suffering with a "charley horse". Travel here and there, scouting various opponents, jousting down weaknesses, strong points. Back to the field and the boys. Some of the wolves are howling, they always do.

Lectures, blackboard drills, pep talks, new plays, practice sessions until dusk—many times. This is a coach's daily life for the better part of three months. If you're married, you almost forget you have a wife. If you follow part of this formula you can't escape success. It has worked for P. H. Bridenbaugh.

What takes a lot of pressure off of a coach's chest is the untiring efforts of his assistants. The aides must pitch in with the practice sessions; take care of the rookies; help treat injured athletes; travel here and there helping to scout opponents. They, too, give up three juicy months.

After following this procedure for 21 years, how does Bridenbaugh feel about coaching? "I'd be lost without it. It gets into your blood and you commence to count the days and hours until the next season rolls around. It's a great life," the popular local coach replied.

Losing New York Yanks Each Draw Down $3,351.77 Share

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—For winning the world series, each member of the St. Louis Cardinals voted a full share received $6,192.53. Commissioner J. M. Landis announced today.

Each member of the losing New York Yankees drew down $3,351.77. About 10 per cent was given in war bonds to each player.

The players' pool was worth $427,579.41.

The melon is shared by all first division clubs.

Allied Airmen Take Spotlight In Battle For New Guinea Strongholds

By PAT ROBINSON

(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA Nov. 23.—Australian and American troops tightened a nose of steel around rapidly depleting Jap forces in the Gona and Buna areas of New Guinea today while the Nipponese fought desperately to hold their positions at Giropa point, Buna mission, a mile from Buna itself, and at Buna's main airbase.

Allied airmen, however, took the spotlight in the day's battle for New Guinea, sinking a destroyer and two barges that attempted to reinforce the Jap garrison at Buna, and destroying 19 enemy planes in numerous dogfights and raids on Jap-held New Guinea airbases.

Pilot Saved
One allied plane was lost, but the pilot bailed out safely.

Maj. Alex Evanoff led a flight of medium bombers in an attack on two destroyers, apparently attempting to relieve the Japs at Buna. He took his plane in at a low altitude, allowing the crew to strafe and bob the enemy warships.

A direct hit on the destroyer's stern set it afire.
Evanoff's crew members included Jim McClellan of Allentown, Pa., and Capt. Paul Peterson of Woodbridge, N. J.

Another fort commanded by Maj. Don Hall of Corpus Christi, Tex., dropped down on two Jap landing barges, set two afire and leveled off to watch them sink. The huge ship then swarmed over Sanananda, strafing from low altitude.

Climbing to join the dogfights between allied pursuit ships and 20 Zeros, Hall's fort arrived in time to shoot down a Zero perched on the tail of a pursuit ship. Other crew members in Hall's Boeing included Lieut. Holden Ellison of Altoona, Pa.

Tuberculosis Causes Many Rejections For Army In State
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—The number of Pennsylvania men rejected by the army because they were tubercular today totaled more than 9,000, according to Col. H. W. Shoemaker, state chairman of the 1942 Christmas Seal Sale.

"While war rages throughout the world," Col. Shoemaker declared, "a ruthless disease enemy is busy within our gates." Each day the known cases of tuberculosis increase and because of this disease about 9,000 men in Pennsylvania already have been rejected for military service.

Many of them had not been aware of its presence and some of them would have shown great gifts of leadership and made fine soldiers."

He said a record sale of Christmas Seals would enable the health department to battle the increase in tuberculosis.

Will Outline Plans For Housing Survey

Plans for the city wide survey of homes to be held on December 1, will be outlined Tuesday afternoon in the court room when the ward and precinct leaders of the women's division of the Citizens' Service Corps will gather and hear the mechanics of the survey explained by representatives of the Housing Committee, who have charge of the plan to get living space for 400 new families here.

The women's survey group is under the chairmanship of Mrs. George H. Bollinger and a chairman has been appointed for each ward. A leader has been appointed for each precinct and in a day or so, block surveyors will be appointed. The entire group will meet at a mass meeting in senior high school Friday night of this week when the final plans will be outlined.

Citizens are urged to be looking for a survey worker on December 1, and to be prepared to answer the questionnaire. Many will not have space available and this should be stated on the questionnaire. Many will have space available, some for single rooms and some who can convert their homes into small apartments.

In case there is any question in any mind as to whether or not the conversion of a home into one or more apartments it can be said definitely that materials will be available. Herbert S. Kirk, of the Housing Committee stated today that he had been assured by the War Production Board that sufficient materials would be released by the Controlled Materials Plan to permit homes to be converted here. The only things that can't be secured are bath tubs and shower heads and pipe can be secured.

As to the financing of the work, this can be done very easily also. The plan of financing where a householder does not have the ready cash for it, will be made public in a day or so.

The survey of the city is for but one purpose and that purpose is to see if New Castle can provide living quarters for the 400 or more families that will be coming in to work in plants.

These families will be a valuable addition to New Castle. They will be the families of skilled workmen and supervisory executives. They are entitled to decent living quarters and these the Housing Committee is determined to get them.

In the meantime, keep in mind the date of the survey, Tuesday, December 1. Be as helpful as you can, remembering that these women are working as a patriotic service.

Executives Club Speaker Prophet

C. William Duncan, Commentator And Writer, Accurate In Predictions

C. WILLIAM DUNCAN

When as a college student, he picked Woodrow Wilson to defeat Charles Evans Hughes in the closest of recent presidential elections, C. William Duncan, Washington commentator and writer, who is to speak here before the New Castle Executives and their ladies Tuesday evening in The Castleton, became a political prophet.

Duncan has named the six succeeding presidential election winners. To clinch his title as seer, he forecast the Democratic upset of the G.O.P. in Pennsylvania's state election in 1934, and the Republican return to power in Pennsylvania in 1938. His predictions were made ahead of the election in writing, witnessed and filed with the Philadelphia Public Ledger staff.

Duncan is to speak on the subject, "Washington Headlines and Headliners." Until the Philadelphia Public Ledger suspended recently, he had been one of its featured columnists and interviewers for a number of years.

Soldier And Girl Killed By Auto

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 23.—An early morning automobile accident had claimed the lives today of Sgt. John J. Feeney, 25, of Glen Ridge, N. J., and Alma Wentz, 26, of Hollidaysburg, on the Gaysport bridge in nearby Hollidaysburg.

Hollidaysburg police said that a car driven by W. Malcolm Borst of Williamsburg, failed to make a curve and hit the couple as they stood on the bridge sidewalk. Miss Wentz was killed instantly, and Feeney died hours later in Altoona hospital.

Feeney was the son of Patrick M. Feeney, advertising manager of the Newark Evening News. He and Miss Wentz were returning from a dance in Altoona when the accident occurred.

Gas Tax Receipts Falling In State

Tire And Gas Rationing Are Cutting Into Gas Tax State Revenue

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Revenues from gasoline taxes are rapidly melting under war-time rationing restrictions and with mandatory curtailment of mileage on refunded gasoline taxes soon will meet with budget difficulties.

Auditor General P. Clair Ross predicted today.

"Since gasoline rationing became effective last July, gas tax receipts have halved, although 25 Western Pennsylvania counties are outside the rationed zone," Ross stated. "Tomorrow, with the basic ration reduced 25 percent, there will be further declines in receipts from eastern counties."

"For the 12-months ended in October, total revenue from the gas tax dropped $6,815,789, as compared with the same period last year while from November, 1940, to October, 1941, receipts were $65,225,464 while in the succeeding 12 months collections totaled only $58,409,675," Ross said.

"Although the total does not show an alarming decline, gasoline consumption since rationing became effective has virtually halved upon the basis of tax collections in the period July to October this year as compared with 1941," he added. "This has resulted in a loss to the general fund of $1,934,905; to the motor fund of $4,888,446, and $967,582 in refunds to counties."

Harmony Line Again Operates

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Operations of the Harmony Bus Line were back to normal today after striking AFL drivers voted to return to work pending mediation of the dismissal of two of their members by the federal conciliation division.

More than 100 drivers quit work Saturday morning, hampering transportation to vital defense plants in Western Pennsylvania, and especially in the Pittsburgh area, in protest against the dismissal of a driver and an apprentice.

A stipulation provided that the two dismissed men be placed on the suspended list pending clarification of the dispute.

Seniors To Present Play December 4

January Graduates Of New Castle High To Stage "Skyways" As Graduation Play

The January graduates at the senior high school are bringing to the patrons of the high school drama a play with a timely setting. They have chosen a comedy by N. Richard Nussbaum with the revealing title of "Skyways". The entire action takes place in the stewardess' lounge of the Trans-American Airlines, Cleveland airport. Stewardesses and pilots, switchboard operators and radio operators, a flight superintendent and a newspaper reporter, call for an age level in the cast particularly suited to the high school senior.

"Skyways" had its first production under the title of "Don't Shoo the Eagles". It was produced for the first time by the Harcum Experimental theatre, under the direction of the author at Plays and Players theatre, Philadelphia. It has been taken up by high school classes in dramatics with much enthusiasm in these air-minded days. Miss Hartsuff, the dramatics coach at the local school, and the senior class are particularly to be congratulated in their choice of a play with great popular appeal.

The public performance of "Skyways" has been set for Friday evening, December 4, in the senior high school auditorium.

West Philadelphia Wreck Injures One

B. And O. Freight Wreck And Fire Ties Up Traffic; Double Tracks Ripped Up

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—One trainman was injured and traffic over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's double line of track was tied up today by a freight wreck and fire near 61st street and Greenway avenue in West Philadelphia.

The wreck occurred when a freight train, with Engineer A. C. Hoopes of near Wilmington, Del., at the throttle, smashed into the rear of a standing string of freight cars. The caboose and two cars of the standing freight were derailed and the locomotive operated by Hoopes careened across and ripped up both lines of track.

Knocked off by the crash, a coal stove set fire to the caboose. The blaze was quickly extinguished by city firemen and Hoopes was taken to Mercy hospital, where doctors said he has serious internal injuries.
